The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick and the Dying

Please call or text Father Aloysius(2127-412-4344) if you have a loved one who is seriously ill or close to death to receive this Sacrament, which can only be administered to the living. It is recommended that any Catholic who is facing surgery or has a serious illness, receive the Sacrament of the Sick. Once administered, the sense of the Lord's presence draws everyone more closely together. The sacrament is not a guarantee that healing is in the Divine Will of God. It assures that whatever the outcome, God will be present and guide the patient and family throughout the entire journey.

May 10, 2026: St. Damien of Molokai

St. Damien of Molokai was a Belgian priest who was sent to Hawaii to serve in a leper colony. He chose to stay in the colony and minister to the people's physical and spiritual needs even after he contracted leprosy himself. He saw profound dignity in every human life, especially the sick and dying, and dedicated his life to serve them.

Word of Life

May 10th

“Radical solidarity compels us to come alongside vulnerable mothers in profound friendship, compassion, and support for both them and their preborn children. It requires us to address the fundamental challenges that lead an expectant mother to believe she is unable to welcome the child God has entrusted to her. We must do all we can to provide mothers, children, and families with the support they need to flourish. This cannot be accomplished by laws or policy alone, but requires the continual transformation of our own hearts, recognizing in every person the face of Christ, and placing their needs before our own.”

USCCB Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities, “Radical Solidarity”

Stewardship Corner

5th Sunday of Easter

“The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.” 1 PETER 2:7

Every person has been given gifts from the Holy Spirit. These are called “charisms” and they are used to build God's kingdom of earth. While many people are able to recognize their natural talents and abilities, they may be unsure of their charisms. If you know someone who is struggling for a direction in life, give them a little encouragement. Help them discern their charisms and how God is calling them to use them. Remember – no gift is too small or insignificant in God's salvation plan.

Next weekend May 8 & 9, there will be a second collection for the Catholic Communication Campaign. This fund offers grants for communications projects that use media to spread the Gospel message and advance the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' general mission goals.

The CCC's funds are raised through a national diocesan collection taken up in most U.S. parishes in May. One-half of each diocese's CCC collection proceeds are retained by the diocese to support communications projects and goals of the local Church. The remaining half of each diocese's CCC collection supports domestic Catholic communications projects that are national in scope.

5TH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Pastoral Reflections

5th Sunday of Easter

My dear parishioners,

God Is Good!!! All the Time!!! And All the Time!!! God Is Good!!!

Through the power of the Holy Spirit, the Church continues to grow in numbers. Luke spoke earlier of the remarkable generosity of the community of faith. They made their resources available for the less fortunate. Among these unfortunates were widows; they were especially vulnerable because they often had no other means of support.

Jesus continues his “farewell discourse” by making a strong connection between loving him and keeping his commandments. Throughout the passage, Jesus will use words such as commandments, word, and words. The reader should understand all these terms as synonyms. They represent the totality of what Jesus says and what he reveals about God.

Another advocate. One of the ways Jesus will maintain a presence in the world after he returns to the Father is by sending another advocate. The Greek term is parakletos, which is often translated as “paraclete.” Jesus specifies that he will send “another advocate,” indicating that he himself was the first one. This advocate plays a role similar to a defense attorney. He is a teacher who bears witness to Jesus and serves as a prosecutor of the world. He is the Spirit of truth whom the world will reject, but the disciples will accept him because they know him.

I will not leave you orphans. It is important for Jesus to reassure his disciples that they will not be left alone when he returns to the Father. One way that Jesus will be present will be in the form of the advocate. Another way is through his Resurrection. The world will not see this, but the disciples will. This new form of life will also be extended to the disciples. All this will result in the understanding, on the part of the disciples, of the divine mutuality that exists between God, Jesus, and the disciples. Jesus is in the Father, the disciples are in Jesus, and Jesus is in the disciples. This is how the disciples will share in the Father’s love.

Keep my commandments. Jesus makes it very clear that simply knowing his commandments is not enough. The commandments have to be observed and put into practice. This is how the disciples demonstrate their love for Jesus: by keeping his commandments. Those who love Jesus, and therefore keep his commandments, are also assured that they will be loved by God. In addition to this, Jesus will also love the disciples and, in this process, reveal himself to them. All of this is aimed at encouraging the disciples to understand that Jesus’ departure will, in fact, be a saving event that will benefit them all.
